SRAG has been given the opportunity to have a show at this vibrant gallery in September next year, and therefore we have to assess the interest level. Several SRAG members have shown there with different groups, and in different shows, and these SRAG members have all sold their work.

The fee would be $400 for a month, and 20% from sales. Obviously the $400 would be split between the exhibiting members. If we can get 10 SRAG members then it would be $40 each for the month, and I am confident that we could get at least 12 members, so that would bring the cost down. Obviously, the number of pieces for each member would be dependent on how many artists exhibited. If you think you would be interested let Anne McCune know by November 30th. Interest is not necessarily a commitment. Not everyone would have to drive to Caledonia to deliver work. We could work out a car-pooling system.

Paul Taylor Workshop

Line and Wash with Watercolor – Matchstick approach

Saturday, November 19, 2022 9:00 am-12:00 pm @ Village Gallery

Studio, 3096 Main Street, Caledonia. NY 14423

$25.00 pp, payable the day of class. Cash or check. Max. 10, Min 5.

The use of a dynamic line drawing with ink, will essentially make the process of creating a watercolor painting easier. With the varied line of the drawing tool and the simplicity of painting the shapes, the image becomes stylized as the line supports the color but disguises minor errors by making them appear intentional.

Students in the class will learn to block in a subject in light pencil followed by the line with ink. If you struggle with watercolor this may just be the ticket for you. Paul will guide you through the steps as the drawing is created and the watercolor is added. Paul's steps of the painting will be easily seen on a monitor so you don't miss anything.

All materials including palette, paint, paper, brushes and more will be provided.

Just bring yourself.

Please email Paul to register your spot. Send him any questions or concerns you may have via email workshop@paulallentaylor.com or text, 585-334-3417 with Caledonia in the subject line.
