Tom Galombos will do a presentation for SRAG on October 9th. Tom is the art teacher at McQuaid and is skilled in various fine art media. He really enjoys creating comics. I think our group would find his art to be refreshing. Bring pad and pencils, there will be some participation.

Tom Galambos is a painter, cartoonist and educator. He graduated from Nazareth College with Bachelor of Science in Studio Art and Washington University with a Master of Fine Arts degree in Painting.

His paintings have been exhibited locally including the Rochester Finger Lakes Exhibit. His work has been published in a number of comics anthologies and his minicomic "Travis" was on the "Notable Books" list in the 2017 volume of "The Best American Comics". He was awarded a Xeric Grant for his self-published comic "From Hungary", and his graphic novel "All the Wrong Places" was named one of the 10 best graphic novels of 2001 by time.com.

He teaches Art McQuaid Jesuit and occasionally teaches Painting at Nazareth College.

Lastly, I am really excited to announce that I will be having high quality giclee prints of many of my paintings produced. These prints are produced using archival materials and are done by a professional print shop. In the past, many people have asked about prints, but I have never pursued doing them, UNTIL NOW! The quality of these prints is amazing. More information about how and where to purchase these will be coming in early November.
