M.A.G.

If you haven't yet made it to the Memorial Art Gallery to see the Monet exhibit it will be there until January 6. Don't miss the opportunity to see this selection of his paintings of Waterloo Bridge at various times of the day through fog, smoke and sunlight. The Gallery has done a magnificent job of hanging the paintings in a special gallery. If you are a fan of Monet and the impressionists (which I am), be sure to go and see it.
